For kids who learn and think differently, making and keeping friends can be difficult.

DOES YOUR CHILD...

- Find it hard to connect with other kids?
- Feel anxious in social situations?
- Have specific, rigid interests?
- Struggle to lose or take turns?
- Tend to be a 'playground police officer' whose focus on 'the rules' puts other kids off
- Monopolise conversations

If you're worried about your child's social challenges, join Special Educator Kirsty Gale and best-selling author Sonja Walker at this FREE event for parents and educators. You'll receive simple strategies and take home resources to help your special needs child build better relationships at preschool and school.
